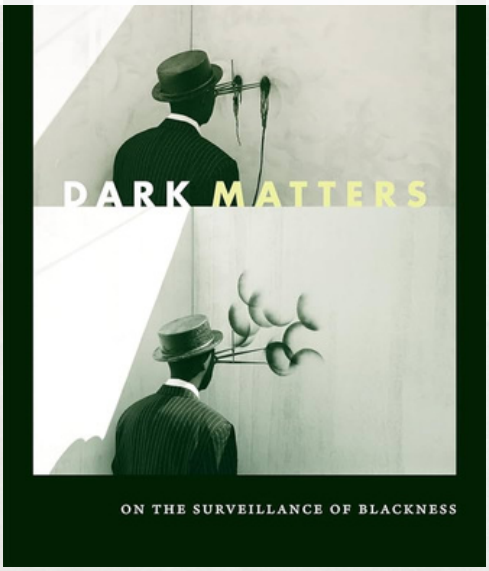
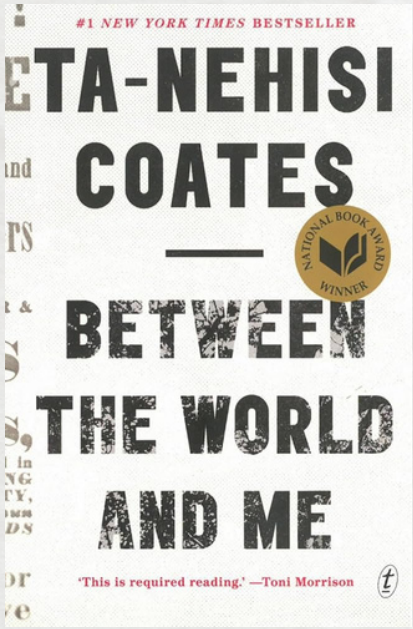
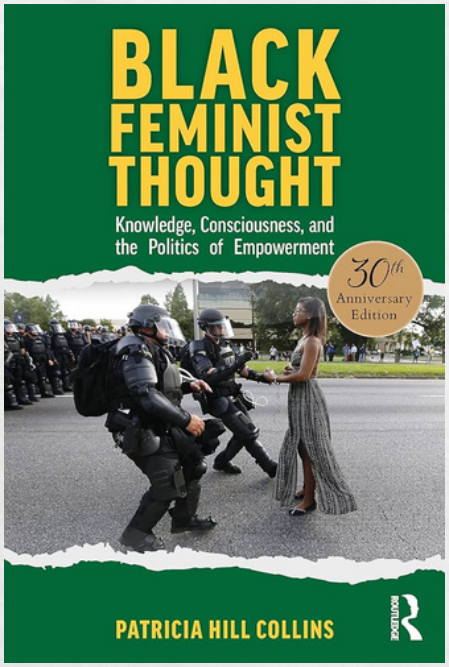
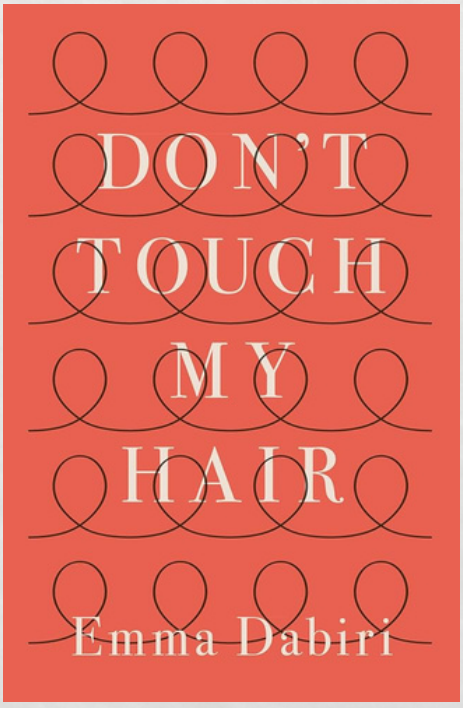
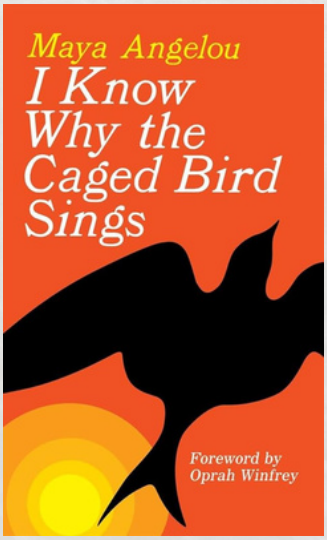
ANTI-RACISM READING LIST

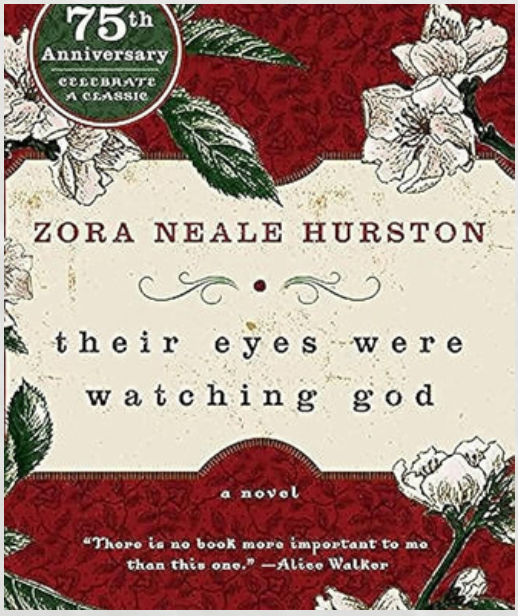






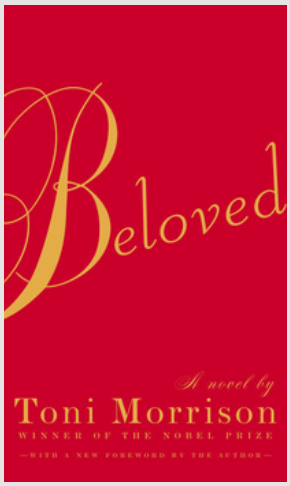


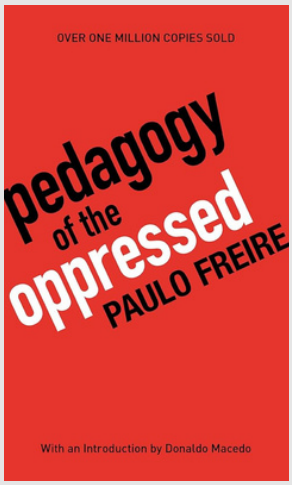




Anti-racism Reading List

PROJECT ESPERANZA





Education Resources
Curated by Victoria Nyanga-Ndiaye

Racism remains endemic in all aspects of life in Scotland, and it has become increasingly visible.

This is why Project Esperanza is involved in systemic change through an anti-racism lens. As part of our Fostering Equalities work, we have started the Anti-Racism Film and Book Club to encourage continued learning away from our sessions.

The books in this list are primarily written by Black and Minority Ethnicity authors, highlighting their experiences through their own words.

These books range from best-selling novels about Black stories to structural anti-racist theory.

White privilege and fragility, intersections of class, gender, and race, and definite steps towards anti-racism are found throughout the list, with various stances and experiences covered in the pages, for every part of your anti-racist education.

Join our anti-racism learning community today!

Through the Project Esperanza learning communiy. we work to address and challenge structural barriers by supporting Black communities and the frontline workforce with education and training. Email to enquire about our learning resources and if you are interested in joining our learning community. When you join, you will benefit from a range of materials designed to aid your anti-racist education as well as the opportunity to attend in person events where we will provide more personalised support for yourself and your organisation to become anti-racist.

You can join by filling out the form on our link tree: linktr.ee/projectesperanzauk or email the address below.

To join, email learning@projectesperanza.org.uk
